The AV Motion Integrated Cinema Solution (ICS) is a masterpiece of modern engineering and craftsmanship, designed to offer a completely hidden TV and cinema experience within a sleek, high-end cabinet. Seamless Automation Gone are the days of bulky equipment cluttering your space. With a single touch, your Ultra Short Throw (UST) projector slides into position while the massive 100" or 120" Ambient Light Rejection (ALR) screen rises from the cabinet. The system is fully automated, using a simple USB trigger to synchronize the projector, slider, and screen for an effortless start to your movie night. Handmade British Craftsmanship Proudly handmade in Hertfordshire, England, each cabinet is constructed from high-quality, hard-wearing veneered timber. The design features soft-close doors and a sophisticated finish that blends perfectly with modern interiors. Smart & Versatile Design Central Hub: The centre section houses the motorised UST slider mechanism and includes a lower drop-down access door for discrete cable management and power control. Storage: Two double-door side cabinets provide ample storage for media players, game consoles, and accessories. Flexible Installation: The screen is independent of the cabinet, allowing it to be fixed to the rear of the unit or wall-mounted. The system is also compatible with fixed-frame or ceiling-mounted screens. Key Features: All-in-One Solution: Includes Hisense PX3-Pro Projector, luxury customisable cabinet, motorised UST drawer slider, and lift-up ALR screen. Choice of Size: Available in configurations for 100" or 120" screens. Premium Build: Durable veneered timber construction with soft-close hinges. Invisible Tech: Projector and screen completely disappear when not in use. Universal Compatibility: Motorised slider accommodates most standard UST projectors. Customizable: Available in various top and side finishes to match your décor. Completely Customisable: Choose from over a 100 different colour options from Egger.
