Description

Extended product overview

The Maxi Ergo Chair with Lumbar Pump is the perfect solution for those who work up to 8 hours a day. This chair is supportive and long-wearing, making it a great investment for anyone who spends long hours at their desk. The ratchet back ensures that the backrest curves to your back shape at the correct position, providing maximum comfort and support. The lumbar support is adjustable, allowing you to customize the level of support to your specific needs. The Asynchro seat mechanism allows for easy adjustment of the seat angle, providing even more comfort and support. Overall, the Maxi Ergo Chair with Lumbar Pump is a must-have for anyone looking to improve their posture and reduce back pain while working.
